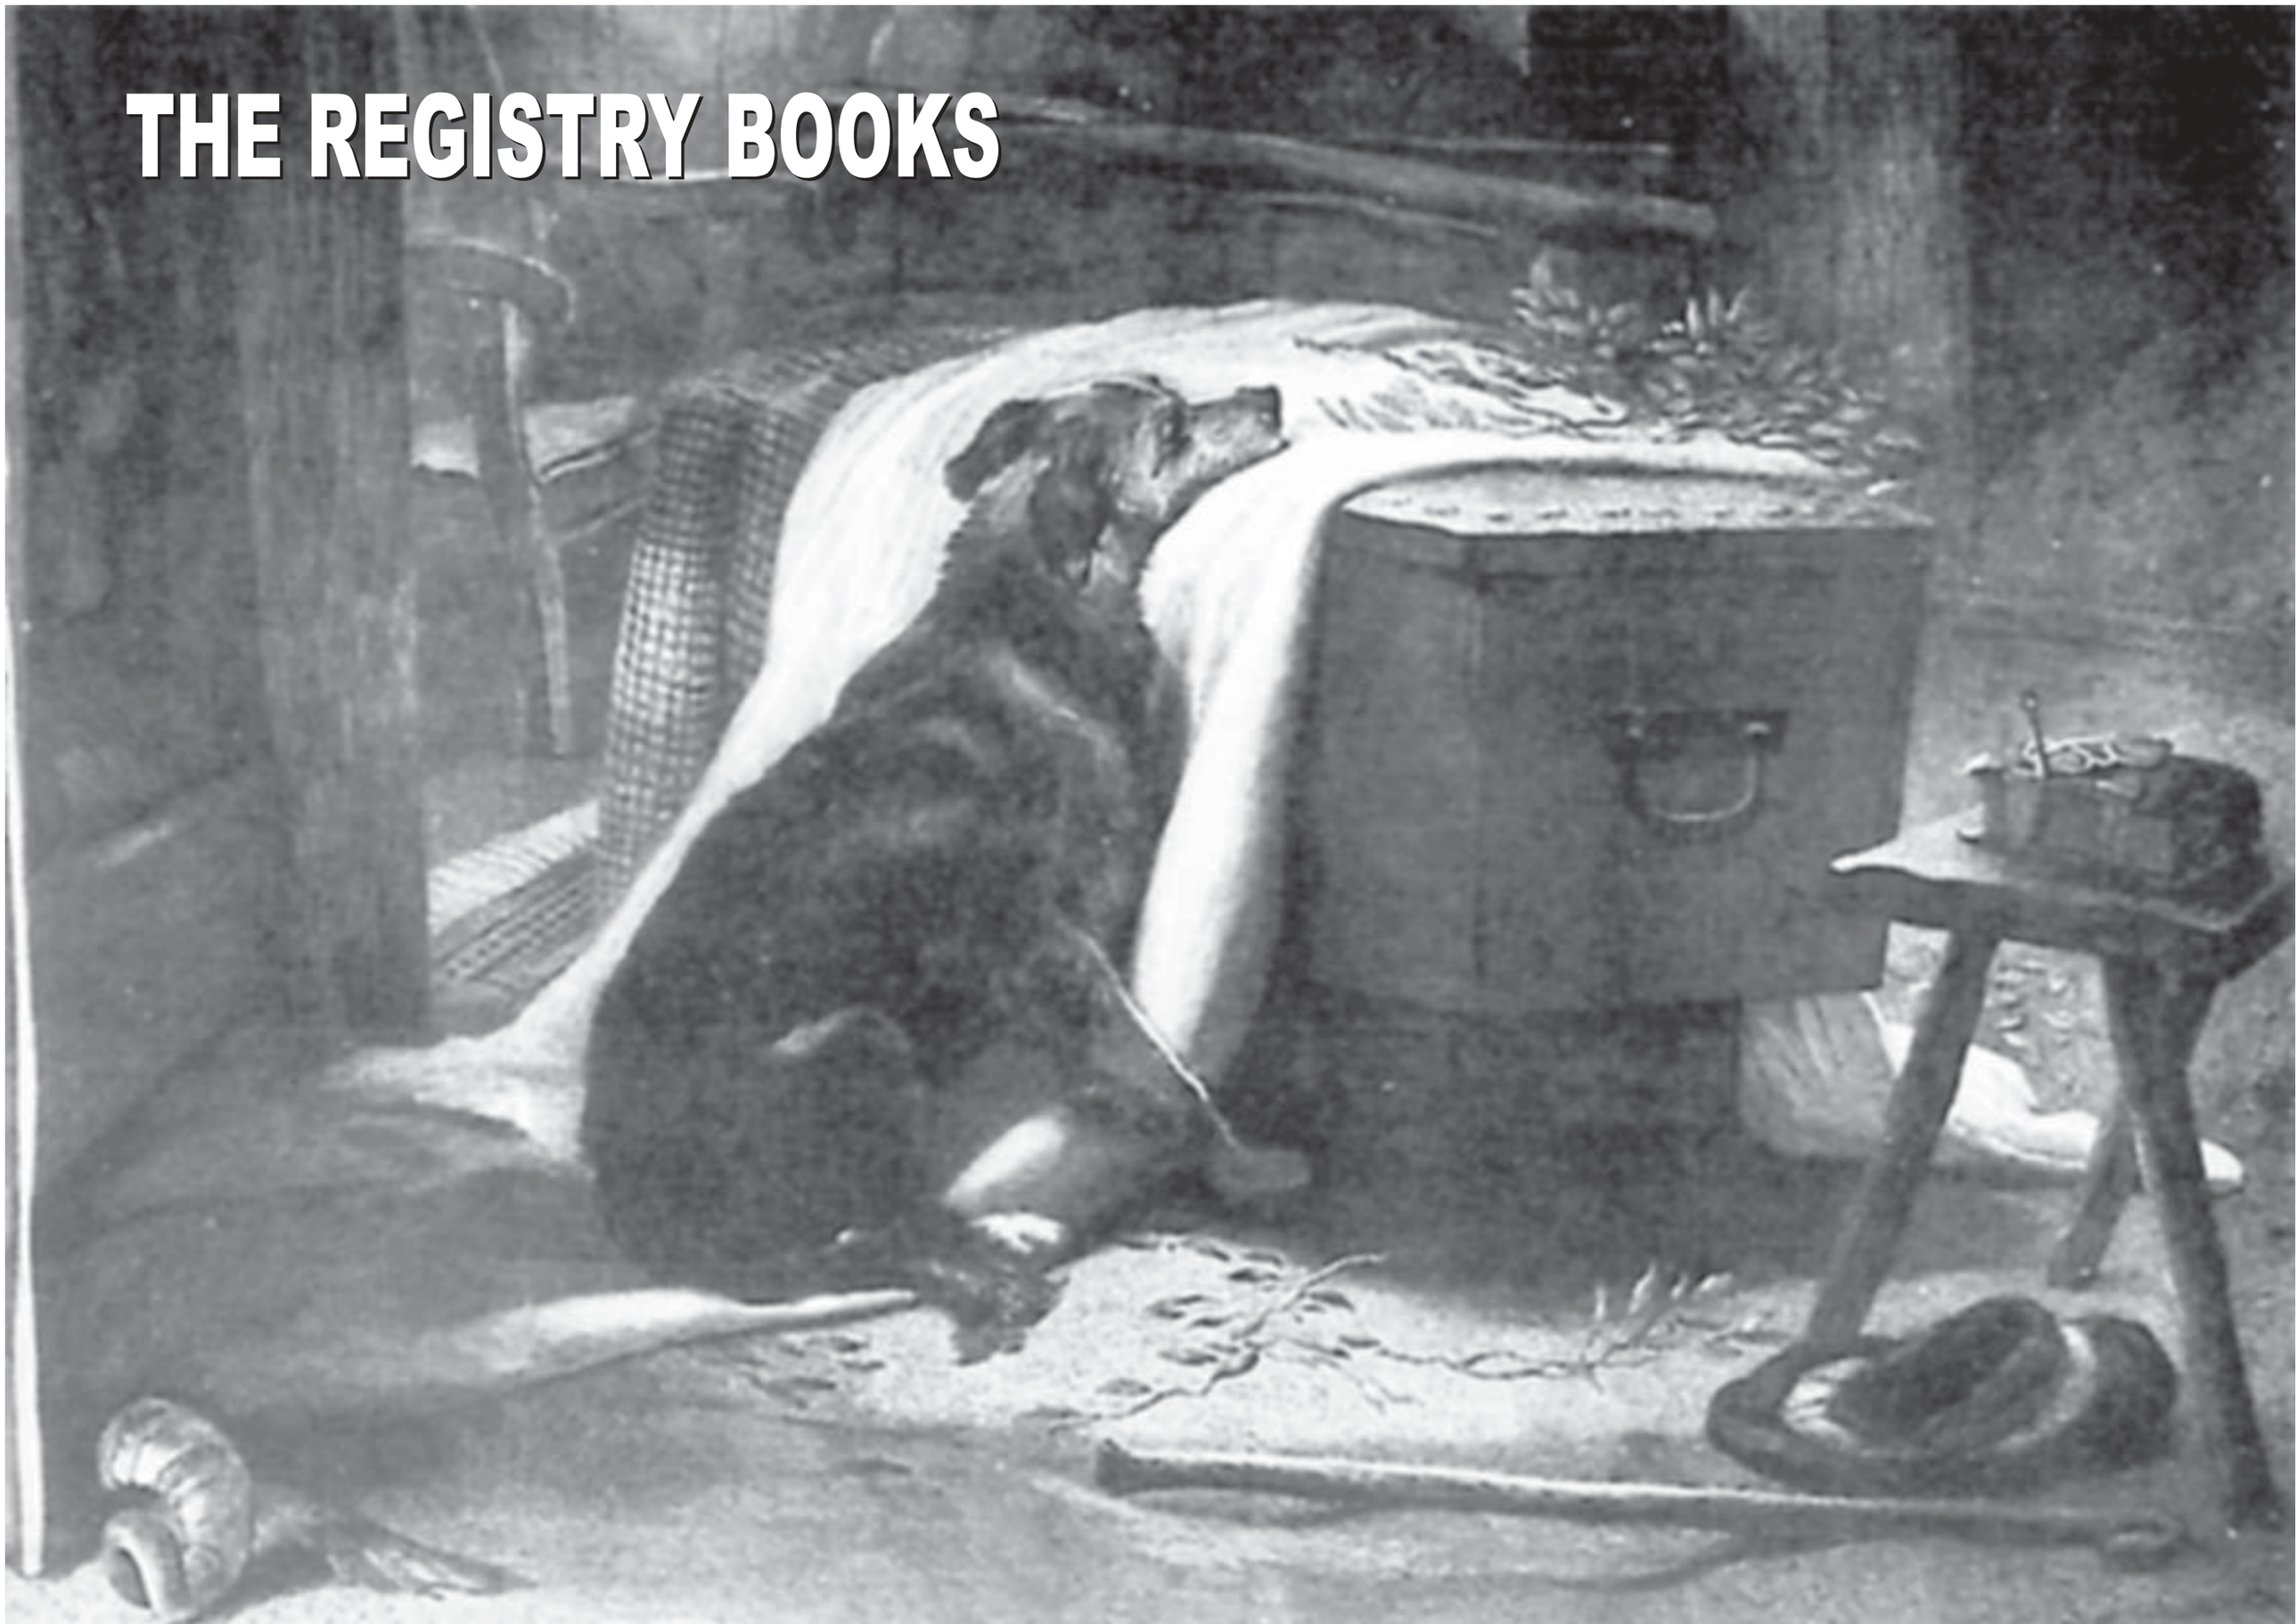
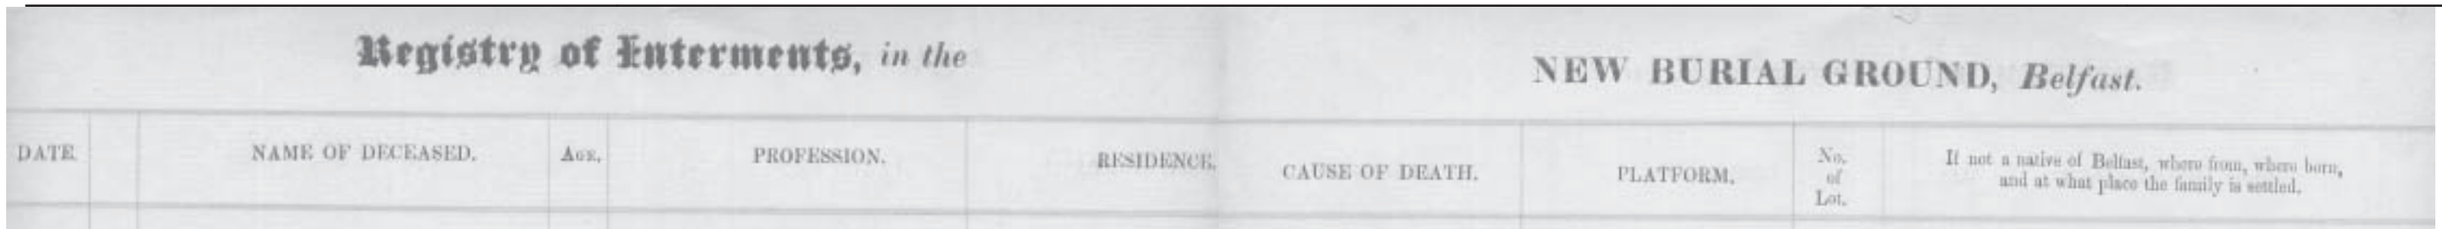
THE REGISTRY BOOKS





Registry of Interments, in the NEW BURIAL GROUND, Belfast.

DATE.	NAME OF DECEASED.	Age.	PROFESSION.	RESIDENCE.	CAUSE OF DEATH.	PLATFORM.	No. of Lot.	If not a native of Belfast, where from, where born, and at what place the family is settled.

One of the most historically interesting facets of any burying ground are, without doubt, its registry books. Although the New Burying Ground was opened in 1797, it was not until 1831 that the Belfast Charitable Society began to keep a registry of all interments. It is unknown why they did not keep a registry from the beginning, but one reason may be that they were more interested in making money to finance the poor-house through the selling of the graves, than to worry about recording who was being buried in them.

However at a meeting held in the poor-house on the 18th of December 1830 it was:

Resolved -that a registry of all the interments in the Burying Ground of the Charitable Society be kept from the commencement of the next year, and that the Rev. Messrs Macartney and Hicks be requested to have a suitable book prepared for the purpose.

The first burial recorded was on the 4th of January, 1831. However, the exact number of people buried in the burying ground before that will never be known. At a rough estimate it could be guessed that around 3,600 burials could have taken place before 1831. That is if up to 100 people had been buried per year, which was below the average amount of burials taking place throughout the 1830s. The figures shown in the three volumes of the registry books are approximately:

Volume 1 1831-1841, 2,640
Volume 2 1841-1864, 5,489
Volume 3 1865-1984, 3,109
Add on the pre-1831 figures and the number of those buried in the New Burying Ground could be as high as 14,000.

The information contained in these books is, to any historian or genealogical researcher, a historical goldmine, and to the curious, a fantastic insight into the life of Belfast from before Victorian times. The books themselves are lined up into eight different sections which are:

Date of burial.
Name of deceased.
Profession.
Age.
Address
Grave number
Place of birth.
Cost to open grave. (Although not in first books)

The following is a list of all these recorded internment's and although we had difficulty deciphering some writing we can state that we really did do our best.
